MOOSUP

Private Louis Richardson, accompanied by Private Richardson, arrived in Moosup Saturday evening on the 5:45 train. People from all about assembled to greet and cheer the first arrival of the home town on his arrival. Crowds were on the platform and thronged the square, each person eager to shake hands with the boys. The entire Moosup National Band gave a concert of patriotic melodies and the Moosup High School Band followed. A patriotic Moosup band provided the automobile to take the boys home. The first was led by the Eagle Drum Corps, the band following. The boys were prepared for such a welcome. Later many persons called at the home to see the boys and tokens of all kinds were presented to them. A fine supper and social was held at the Franco-American club in honor of the boys. It was a very successful affair and all who attended were more than pleased over the welcome, which he assured his friends.

See Garritt of Westbury was in town Monday.

Simple, but most impressive services were held at the funeral of George A. Bartlett at the First Congregational church Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Harry S. McCreedy, pastor of the church conducted the services, and Mrs. Charles Caswell was organist. The service was a beautiful tribute and read two poems, "The Soldier's Boy" and "The Soldier's Girl" by Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Both favorite poems of Mr. Bartlett. There was a very large attendance of relatives and friends and all the organizations with which the deceased was affiliated, were present in a body. There were many large set pieces and sprays of beautiful flowers. Relatives were present from Springfield and Hartford. The bearers were Mayor Charles A. Gates, Dr. James A. Simmons, Dr. J. W. Taylor, Albert B. Cunningham, Frank M. Smith and Roderick Umack. The body was placed in the receiving vault at Willimantic cemetery.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the funeral services for Daniel P. Killen, held from his home at 35 Union street on Monday morning at 9:30. Mr. Killen high school teacher at St. Joseph's church at 10 o'clock. Rev. John Clark pastor of the church, was celebrant. He was under the direction of Rev. John Sullivan, sub-conductor. Delegations were present representing the local orders of Elks and Knights of Columbus of which Mr. Killen was a member. All the local undertakers attended. As the body was borne from the church, Nease, who was in the car, was carried on the organ by Mrs. Turner. The bearers were Dr. John L. Sullivan, Daniel A. Connors, John McCarthy, Jeremiah Sullivan, John Bradley and William Costello. A committal service was held at the grave by Rev. John Clark, burial being in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Miss Alice F. Bentley and John F. Adams, both of the M. E. church, were married at 7:45. Both Mr. and Mrs. Adams are employed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. They make their home at 762 Main street.

Judge George E. Hinman, chairman of the Speakers' committee in connection with the Centenary of the church, held a meeting at the local theatre for this week as follows: Gen. Theatres Feb. 27, D. P. Dunn; 28, E. P. Fenton; 29, Frank H. Fox; 30, George E. Hinman, March 1, W. C. Norris.

Monie theatre: Feb. 25, George E. Hinman; 26, W. C. Norris; 27, D. P. Dunn; 28, E. P. Fenton; March 1, Frank H. Fox.

At the weekly meeting Monday night the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Page was conferred upon a large class of candidates. There was a good attendance.

Two matters occupied the attention of the local police Monday night. Terrance McQuade, who was before the court on a charge of intoxication and peevishness, pleaded guilty to the former charge. In the latter charge was not pressed. He was sentenced to spend thirty days in the local jail. The second case was that of James Seaborn of New London, who was arrested as one of the three young men connected with damage to property February 15th in the Willimantic rooming house. In the latter case, conducted by Albert Conant, Seaborn was the first witness and testified to renting the room to Spellman on the night of January 15th and to finding the room in bad shape the next morning. Some of the furniture having been broken and the room being in general disorder. John Ago, who works for the railroad, testified to being kept awake until one o'clock that morning by the noise in the room which was next to the one he occupied and before court opened he pointed out in the hall a young man named Sullivan.

DANIELSON

At a hearing before Probate Judge George P. Genuis of Brooklyn, the will of Mrs. Ruby G. Williams, recently deceased in that town, was admitted to probate. It was stated on Monday that an appeal is likely to be entered within 30 days, however, bringing the matter eventually before the superior court for Windham county. Attorneys interested in the estate of Mrs. Williams are Messrs. Nathan D. Prince, in support of the will and the attached codicil; Judge Arthur G. Bill, representing Mrs. Charlotte Scarborough, a legatee; C. E. Searis of the firm of Searis, Russell and Bradford, representing the Day Kimball hospital of Putnam; and Charles L. Torrey, representing Mrs. Ella Adams of Danielson, Tully D. Brown and Grace Bowen, contesting the will. Nathan D. Williams and Charles S. Hyde, both of the town of Brooklyn, were named appraisers of the estate, which is expected to inventory from $10,000 to $15,000.

Principal Ernest R. Warren, of Killbuck High school, has made known that there is an opportunity for some faculty in Danielson to do highly commendable service by furnishing a home to a very worthy young woman who is anxious to complete a course of study at the Danielson High School, but who is unable to do so unless she can find a home in or near Danielson and be permitted to commute her benefactor by working for her board. Principal Warren is much interested in the case. The young woman is in every way worthy and her ambition is such that it is felt that every effort should be made to aid her.

Members of the church of which he formerly was the pastor and many of the friends of Danielson were concerned Monday over Rev. W. Douglas Swaffield, who was reported critical. He will with influence at East Boston. He is under the care of a nurse. Mr. Swaffield was the pastor of the First Baptist church of Danielson.

Carroll Allen has been elected president of the Boys' club, which is occupying Gallup's hall as its quarters. Other officers elected were Norman Reeves, vice president; Richard Reeves, financial secretary; Charles W. Hale, treasurer.

A special committee to draft rules and by-laws for the club is made up of the officers and Joseph Norton, William Gierens and Emil Moultrie. The club is becoming thoroughly organized, has more than two score of members and is expected to be a splendid medium for getting the young men together for social and athletic enjoyment.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. Nichols, mother of the late Mr. Nichols, were held at the Nichols home on School street, Rev. W. R. Williams of the Congregational church officiating. The burial was in Grove Street cemetery, Putnam.

Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

A Chester Sikes died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCoy in Brooklyn, where he had been making his home for some time. Mr. Sikes was a native of Hadfield, Mass. and was 67 years of age. He was a cooper by trade.

Fred Beland, 2 son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beland, died at their home in Goodview, where the family arrived on Saturday from Woodstock. The child had been ill since last Monday.

Saturday, Miss Irene E. Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hill, and Raymond Wesley Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen, were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage, by Rev. M. S. Stocking. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Allen left for their home in Brooklyn.

Covers were laid for 92 persons at a banquet at the Methodist church at the meeting of the Danielson and Valley circuit of the Epworth League, which was held at the church on Monday night. The banquet was given by the Danielson and Valley circuit of the Epworth League. The banquet was given by the Danielson and Valley circuit of the Epworth League.

The local committee for the Open East drive is Mrs. Walter M. Buckingham, Misses Alice Satterlee and Jennie G. Perkins.

Courland E. Colver of the Navy Yard manager and treasurer of the W. R. Perry Ice Co. of New London, who has been at South Willington attending to the harvesting of the company's plant, was obliged to return to his home Saturday night with gastritis. Mr. Colver is improving. A big ice plant for harvesting eleven inch ice of excellent quality.

Rev. C. S. Tibbets of the M. E. church, Uxbridgeville met the Sunday school board of the M. E. church at this place at the parsonage with Rev. O. E. Newton and Mrs. Newton, Wednesday evening. The plan of the work expected of the Sunday school of this church in the Centenary of Mission in Methodism was placed before the board by Rev. Mr. Tibbets and the school will assist in the drive for $5,000,000, the minimum asked for by the Centenary.

Mrs. Northrup and sister of Unasville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fowler Sunday.
